

Terms of Use

Please read these Terms of Use (the “Terms”) carefully before accessing or using materials in the collections of the Fortunoff Video Archive for Holocaust Testimonies at the Yale University Library made available on or through this platform, fortunoff.aviaryplatform.com (“Platform”). The Terms are an enforceable agreement between Yale University (“Yale”) and you, the user of the Platform, an individual Authorized User. Terms such as “we”, “our” and “us” refer to Yale University. By using and accessing the Platform, you acknowledge that you have read the Terms and agree to be bound by and comply with them. If you do not agree to be bound by and comply with the Terms, you are not authorized to use the Platform. Yale reserves the right to modify the Terms at any time in its sole discretion and will publish notice of any such modifications on this website. Any modified Terms are effective immediately upon posting. By continuing to access the Platform after Yale posts notification of modified Terms, you agree to be bound by and comply with them. If you do not agree to the Terms, please do not enter the Platform. If you are not yet eighteen years of age, a parent or guardian may agree to be bound by the Terms on your behalf.

Copyright Information

© Yale University 2021. All Rights Reserved.

In consideration for your agreement to the Terms, Yale grants you a limited, personal, non-exclusive, non-transferable license to access the Platform and real-time view the Materials in streaming video for educational, research and non-commercial purposes only. Although the Platform is freely accessible, Yale does not intend to cede its rights, or the rights of third parties, to information and content made available on or through the Platform (the “Materials”). By accessing and using the Materials, you agree that there is no explicit or implicit transfer of ownership rights, and, as between you and Yale, any and all rights, title and interest in and to the Platform and/or Materials, and all intellectual property rights, including all copyright, trademark, patent and other applicable proprietary rights therein, shall remain with Yale and our third-party licensors, as applicable. You may not copy, quote, reproduce, record, photograph, retransmit, distribute, publish, display, broadcast, exploit or transfer any Materials unless permission to do so is specifically authorized in writing by Yale, or is otherwise allowed under applicable copyright and privacy laws. You are welcome to make fair use of copyrighted materials as may be provided by applicable copyright law. The United States copyright law contains an exception for fair use of copyrighted materials, which includes the use of protected materials for certain purposes of teaching, scholarship, research, criticism, commentary, and news reporting. For guidelines on the fair use exception in the United States, please refer to the website of the U.S. Copyright Office.

Permission to publish quotations in the Materials must be obtained through a formal application to the Fortunoff Video Archive for Holocaust Testimonies at Yale University (fortunoff.library.yale.edu/contact/contact-us/). The testimonies in the Fortunoff Video Archive are the personal recollections and reflections of individual survivors and witnesses. In all cases, you must include a citation to the “Fortunoff Video Archive for Holocaust Testimonies at Yale University.” You agree that Yale is not responsible for any content or commentary contained in the interviews that you might deem to be derogatory, defamatory, or offensive in any manner.

Trademark Notice

The names, marks, logos, seals, devices and designs associated with the Fortunoff Video Archive for Holocaust Testimonies, Yale University Library, and Yale University are trademarks and service marks of Yale (collectively, "Yale Trademarks"). All other trademarks or service marks appearing on the Platform are the trademarks, service marks, or logos of their respective owners. No trademark or service mark appearing on the Platform may be used without the prior written consent of the mark's owner. You may not use Yale Trademarks without valid, written authorization from Yale. Additionally, you may not use Yale Trademarks in any manner that (a) will likely cause confusion about the source of any product or service or (b) falsely implies or represents that Yale sponsors, endorses, or is affiliated with any third-party activity. You may not register any domain names containing any Yale Trademarks without Yale's prior written consent in each case.

Use of the Platform - Code of Conduct

You agree not to use the Platform to engage in any of the following conduct. Such conduct is unacceptable and may result in the termination of your access to the Platform.

- Interfering with the operation of the Platform, or, restricting, disrupting or inhibiting any other user from using and enjoying the Platform;
- Transmitting any unlawful, fraudulent, threatening, harassing, libelous, defamatory, discriminatory, obscene, or similarly objectionable or harmful material or information of any kind;
- Transmitting any advertisement, promotion, or solicitation of goods or services for commercial or partisan political purposes;
- Transmitting any information or software that contains a virus, worm, time bomb, Trojan horse, or other harmful or disruptive component that may compromise the security of the Platform;
- Transmitting or otherwise using materials in violation of another party's copyright, privacy, publicity or other proprietary right, or the terms of any contractual agreement or fiduciary relationship;
- Using the Platform for any commercial, partisan political or unlawful purposes; • Copying, scraping, downloading, exporting, storing or otherwise capturing any data obtained via the Platform without proper written authorization by Yale;
- Modifying, adapting, sublicensing, translating, selling, reverse engineering, decompiling, or disassembling any portion of the Platform;
- Misrepresenting your identity, or, sharing or otherwise transferring user account information to any person other than the registered user authorized to use such account;
- Accessing or attempting to access any portion of the Platform to which you have not been explicitly granted access;
- Directly or indirectly authorizing anyone else to take actions prohibited in this section; or
- Otherwise using the Platform or any services, information and content available on or through the Platform in violation of the Terms or applicable law.

Yale may terminate your account or authorization to access the Platform at any time, without notice, for conduct that Yale believes violates the Terms. If you become aware of any unauthorized use of your account, another user's account or any portion of the Platform and/or Materials, you agree to notify the Fortunoff Video Archive for Holocaust Testimonies at Yale University by email at: fortunoff.archive@yale.edu, and to provide prompt reasonable assistance at the request of Yale and/or its representatives to address any violations of the Terms as determined by Yale.

Links to the Platform

You may not create links to the Platform from any website with content that is fraudulent, threatening, harassing, libelous, defamatory, discriminatory, obscene, or similarly objectionable or harmful, or in a manner that would constitute or encourage a criminal offense, violate the rights of any party (directly or indirectly), or otherwise give rise to liability, violate any law or falsely imply Yale's sponsorship, endorsement or approval of your or another party's site or activities. Additionally, Yale, in its sole discretion, has the right to require that you remove links to the Platform.

Links to Third-Party Sites

As a courtesy, the Platform may contain links to websites controlled by third parties. Yale is not responsible for these third-party sites or their content, activities or privacy practices. The inclusion of links on the Platform does not imply Yale's endorsement of the linked web sites, their content, or any associated organization or activity. Yale makes no representation or warranty whatsoever about the nature of the linked sites. You should read the privacy policies and terms of use that govern your use of other sites before accessing and using their services.

Disclaimers of Warranties

The Platform and Materials are provided "as is" and "as available." Yale does not warrant that your use of the Platform and/or Materials will be uninterrupted or error-free. There may be delays, omissions, interruptions and inaccuracies in such services, information and content. Yale makes no representations or warranties about the accuracy, completeness, timeliness, reliability or non-infringement thereof. Yale reserves the right to correct any errors or omissions in the Platform. If you rely on any aspects of the Platform and/or Materials, you do so entirely at your own risk. You specifically acknowledge that Yale is not liable for the defamatory, offensive or illegal conduct of other users or third parties, and that the risk of injury from this type of conduct rests entirely with you. Your sole remedy for dissatisfaction with the Platform and/or the Materials is to stop using them. To the maximum extent permitted under law, Yale disclaims all express or implied warranties with respect to the Platform and Materials, including without limitation, any warranty of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose (even if that purpose has been disclosed) and non-infringement. Yale does not guarantee or warrant that the Platform and Materials are free from viruses, worms, "Trojan horses" or other malicious code. Yale is not liable for any damages or harm attributable to such features. It is up to you to take any and all precautions to ensure that your access and use of the Platform and Materials is free of such items of a destructive nature.

Limitation of Liability

Yale and its officers, trustees, employees, representatives and agents are not liable for any claim of any nature whatsoever based on loss or injury because of errors, omissions, interruptions or inaccuracies in the Platform and/or Materials, including loss or injury that results from your breach of any provision of the Terms. Under no circumstances will Yale or its officers, trustees, employees, representatives or agents be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, special, punitive, or exemplary damages (including, but not limited to, procurement of substituted services or materials; loss of use, data, revenues or profits; or business interruption) arising in any way out of or in connection with your use of the Platform and/or Materials, however caused and regardless of the theory of liability, whether in tort (including negligence of any kind), contract, statutory, or any other legal or equitable theory, even if advised of the possibility of such damages. Some jurisdictions do not allow the limitation of liability for certain kinds of damages, so some of these limitations or exclusions may not apply to you.

Indemnification

You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold Yale and its officers, trustees, employees, representatives and agents harmless from and against any and all claims, liabilities, losses, damages, costs, or other expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) that arise directly or indirectly out of or from:

1. your breach of the Terms;
2. your violation of the Code of Conduct (as set forth above); or
3. your activities in connection with the Platform and/or Materials. Yale reserves the right, at its own expense, to assume the exclusive defense and control of any matter for which it is entitled to indemnification. You agree to provide Yale with whatever cooperation it reasonably requests.

General

The Terms are the complete agreement between you and Yale regarding the subject matter hereof, and any and all prior or contemporaneous written or oral agreements existing between you and Yale regarding such subject matter are expressly canceled. We may terminate this agreement at any time for any reason. If you breach any of the Terms, your license to access and use the Platform and Materials terminates immediately. Upon such termination, you must stop use thereof. Any heading, caption, or paragraph title contained in the Terms is inserted only as a matter of convenience and in no way defines or explains any paragraph or provision contained within the Terms. If any provision of the Terms is found to be invalid by any court having competent jurisdiction, the invalidity of such provision shall not affect the validity of the remaining provisions thereof, which shall remain in full force and effect. No waiver of any of the Terms shall be deemed a further or continuing waiver of such term or condition or any other term or condition. You may not transfer or assign any rights or obligations under this agreement. In the event of termination hereunder, you shall have a continuing obligation thereafter to comply with any provision of the Terms that by its sense and context is intended to survive termination.

Choice of Law/Forum Selection

You agree that any dispute arising out of or relating to the Terms, the Platform and/or Materials, whether based in contract, tort, statutory or other law, will be governed by the laws of the State of Connecticut, excluding its conflicts of law provisions. You irrevocably agree to bring any claim or dispute relating to your use thereof and the Terms exclusively in the applicable state courts located in New Haven County, Connecticut or the United States District Court for the District of Connecticut (sitting in New Haven), to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of those courts, and to waive any objections based on jurisdiction, venue, or inconvenience of the forum. In any action to enforce this agreement, the prevailing party will be entitled to costs and attorneys' fees. If a court determines that any provision of the Terms is unenforceable for any reason, then that provision will be deleted and the remaining provisions will be enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Questions

If you have questions relating to the Platform, you may email us at: fortunoff.archive@yale.edu. Please understand that, due to the volume of communications we receive, we may not be able to respond to all questions.
